DAILY TRIBUNE.

Thursday Morning.......March 12, 1857.

DEATH OF AN EDITOR.—The Buffalo Express of the 9th announces the death of GEO. W. HASKINS, Esq., of that paper. The Express pays a worthy tribute to the character and qualifications of Mr. HASKINS, who was beloved for his many virtues and excellencies, as he was admired for his rare endowments and talents. He was but 32 years of age at the time of death.

Death of an Illinois Merchant.

We regret to hear that the senior partner in the well known house of CURTENIUS & GRISWOLD, Peoria, died at his residence in that city yesterday morning. Mr. CURTENIUS has been for nearly twenty years engaged in mercantile pursuits in Illinois, and, while he amassed a fortune, took care to win for himself a reputation for integrity that is known as far as his operations extended. His loss will be keenly felt by that enterprising town of which he was one of the most valued citizens.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

JOB PRINTING.—Those wanting any kind of Job Printing, can be accommodated by applying at the TRIBUNE Job Rooms, No. 53 Clark street, up stairs. Work is done well, cheap and quick. Give the TRIBUNE Job Office a trial.

FIRE.—The alarm of fire at 11 o'clock Tuesday night was occasioned by the burning of a small dwelling near the American Car Company's Works.

SCANDALOUS.—In his inaugural, Mr. Buchanan talks about "our children, and our children's children."

RESIGNED.—It is reported that Isaac Cook, our Post Master, has tendered his resignation to the Department.

SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COUNCIL.—A special meeting of the Common Council has been called for this evening. It is expected the Mayor will announce his appointments for confirmation this evening.

RELIGIOUS WORSHIP will be held at the North Baptist Mission Sabbath School House next Sabbath, at 3 o'clock P. M., at the corner of Lasalle and Erie streets. Seats free. Sabbath school one hour previous.

LARCENY.—James Anderson was brought before Justice D'Wolf upon a charge of stealing a watch and breast-pin from F. J. Reardon. The accused was committed for trial in default of $600 bail.

KANSAS EMIGRANTS—RATES OF FARE.—Those who design emigrating to Kansas will find the rates of fare from different points, published in our advertising columns.

NEWS BOY ARRESTED.—Alderman LaRue arrested a News Boy named James Kennedy, for selling the "Town Talk," a scurrilous sheet. The boy was discharged from custody.

ALWAYS PROMPT.—McNally & Co., Theatre Building, have "Nick Nax" for April, London Illustrated News of February 21st, the Weekly London Times, and the latest New York papers.

FLORA TEMPLE.—Barks, Post Office Building, sends us a beautiful colored portrait of the famous Flora Temple. It is one of the series gratuitously given to the subscribers to Porter's Spirit of the Times.

AN ALDERMAN FINED.—The trial of Dennis Coughlin, Alderman from the Tenth Ward, upon a complaint for assault and battery on election day, was concluded yesterday afternoon before Justice Grants and Coughlin was fined $100, a severe but no doubt merited penalty.

RATHER SHARP.—The New York Times recalls the story of a country editor, who, finding the body of a man hanging to a lamp-post one night after his own paper had gone to press, cut it down, and carried it home, to prevent his rival from publishing the news, and was himself indicted for murder. It is not impossible, even in newspaper management to be too sharp.

POLICE COURT—WEDNESDAY.—[illegible] driver of hack No. 47, was fined $5 for overcharging a passenger. Cornelius Mathews, a brute of a fellow, was fined $10 and sent to the Bridewell for thirty days, for abusing his family. Thomas Smith was fined $2 for a simple drunk. Peter Owens and his wife Mary enjoy but a small share of conjugal felicity, and yesterday Peter beat her for getting drunk. The fracas attracted the attention of the police, and Peter was fined $2 and Mary $1 and sent to the Bridewell for thirty days.

THE TENTH WARD RIOT.—We have accidentally learned that Alonzo Pennelson, a Republican, was severely injured at the riot in the Tenth Ward. He was quietly attempting to deposit his ballot when he was struck over the head with a club by an Irishman and so severely injured that he has been confined to his room ever since. He lives on West Washington street near Halsted street. The blow severed the scalp from the skull so that it hung down over his face.

Mr. Bigsby, an old and respectable citizen, was also severely hurt at the same time, and several others are reported as having been so seriously injured as to be confined to their houses.

A MODEL BOARDING-HOUSE.—We are informed, that in a certain very genteel boarding-house in this city, the inmates, ten in number, have, by an arithmetical computation been found to perform just ninety bows, and bid each other ninety "good mornings," at each and every breakfast table; ninety bows and ninety "How do you do, sirs," (or "madams") at each dinner; and ninety bows with ninety "good evenings," at every evening's repast; amounting in all to no less than two hundred and seventy salutations daily executed at this festive board, to say nothing of sundry recherche recognitions of each others presence made by these boarders in the parlor, halls, &c.

These are the only communications that have ever yet been allowed to mar the solemn dignity of this select society. And although nothing can be more dismal than the monotony of these imposing ceremonies, yet it can not be denied that in this way alone can be attained that perfection of precision, which it is the desire of a lofty gentility to affect.

HOUSE NUMBERS.—We are sadly deficient in numbers upon our houses; and one of the reasons of it is the expense and trouble of getting the necessary figures. Where there is a will, it is said, there is a way; but we do not see it under present arrangements. If a light of glass is broken, we can readily hire some enterprising traveling glazier, "Glass put in." Why will not somebody who is willing to turn an honest penny, get up a set of numerals in metallic plates so arranged as to be easily transposed and joined together to make any desired number, and let agents go through every street in the city, and stick to it until every house is numbered with uniform figures. Such a movement as this would be a boon to the people of this badly numbered city, and should be followed by a stringent enactment of an ordinance compelling every house to be conspicuously numbered. But first let us have the new figures, and there will be no lack of buyers—the thing will enforce itself, and whoever sees it agoing will "make a good thing of it," in a pecuniary, as well as public point, and will be entitled to the gratitude of the people in all time to come.

RAGGED SCHOOLS.—The Rev. Dr. Guthrie, in the course of a long and eloquent speech, in Edinburgh, the other day, referred to a meeting in the Ragged Schools which he had attended about two months before. He said:

[illegible]

PREVENTION VERSUS CURE.—The benevolent ladies who are designing to reform and elevate the worst feminine specimens they can find, have set to work with most commendable zeal. If there is any truth in the old proverb that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, the benevolent ladies who are engaged in this well-meant attempt, would accomplish more good by the exercise of like zeal in behalf of our poorly paid, hard-worked, sorely-tried and tempted working girls.

ENGINE COMPANY NO. THREE—A LIBRARY.—We are glad to learn that the members of Engine Company No. Three, are making an effort to obtain a library for the use of the Company. A number of liberal gentlemen have presented about one hundred and fifty volumes. It is designed to increase this number to four or five hundred, and those who have books to give cannot make a better disposition of them than by sending them to No. Three's house. The Company is composed of over one hundred active and energetic men, always ready, at the call of duty, to brave the elements in defense of the property and lives of their fellow citizens, and their past good services richly merit a generous response to their solicitation in this behalf. May their book shelves be speedily filled to overflowing.

This Company has fitted up a very neat and tasteful lodging room, where a portion of the members sleep, thus being immediately on hand in case of a fire. By this arrangement the engine can reach a scene of conflagration earlier than if the members were obliged to go from distant lodgings to the engine-house. The arrangement is one generally adopted by Eastern fire companies, and answers the design well.

A VOICE FROM BRIDEWELL FOR THE HOMELESS AND THE MAGDALEN.—No. 4.—I feel, Messrs. Editors, as I write this morning, that perhaps nineteen out of twenty of your readers, will hardly appreciate the motives with which I have taken my pen, but if one in twenty get the scales from their eyes, we shall soon see that I have not written in vain. Some of the cures of the alarming increase of this pitiable class, was the promised theme of this article. They are found primarily, in the condition of man in his fallen state. There is a very old book which tells us, that "God made man upright." Upright he is no longer. Self is the great object for which he exists. To pamper his body, and unfit it for usefulness, seems to be his great aim, entirely disregarding the priceless jewel for which the casket was formed out of the dust, and to which it must soon return. Man in his natural state is not improved by prosperity. Under the cold winter of adversity and its concomitants, poverty and sickness, the innate propensities of that nature to evil, are in a dormant state, but they are not dead.

Let the warm sun of prosperity shine upon such an one, and we are not slow to see, if he is, the brood of positive evils, and germs of a character which startle us not unfrequently, crawling and festering in his every path. As an illustration, let us for a moment pass in review before us, the influence which the uncovering of the gold field of California and Australia, have had upon the morals of society, in its individual and social relations. I need not paint the picture—it stands out in bold relief, in sorrow and in tears, in broken hearts, and crushed hopes, in the remembrance of many whose eyes meet these lines. These discoveries have ushered in a new era in the history of a world now rapidly drawing to a close. It is "the beginning of the end." What one national character for good is being formed from these discoveries. Of the 500,000 "pilgrims" who have gone over the Plains, and over the waters, to this place, where mammon holds his court, small indeed is the number who have come back better husbands—better men. But what, says the reader, had all this to do with the poor outcast, and the causes which have made her this? "Much every way." Lamentably had the love of gold led to its possession—to extravagance voluptuous living—inflamed blood—passions indulged, until passion is the master, man the slave. I have in my eye many in this city, who a few years since obtained a reputable support by the "sweat of their brow," who have suddenly become rich, and who can distinguish between their daughters and the daughters of sin, in their equal extravagance in dress?

It is painful to write, as painful to some it may be to read—it is no less painful than true, that the extravagance of the age, especially in the dress of females, is one prominent cause of the increase of this class of unfortunate ones. For lack of this, is this matter of dress is an evil, leading with the same tendency to the same vortex of ruined innocence, broken hearts, and often to self destruction. I know and which most to pity, the little infant, miniature woman, dressed for the ball or the promenade, or the poor mother who has lavished her money and her precious time to make her prematurely attractive in society, and who, instead of keeping her back from observation, takes her by the hand, leads her to the dance—feeds her lusciously—madly pushes her on to premature womanhood. O! the mother, "leading her own daughter into temptation," is a sight at a fancy ball for Angels to weep at! The extravagance of the age is, with alarming strides leading to the disregard of the sacredness of the marriage relation, and in its reflex influence filling the ranks of the frail and the fallen, and for plain, simple, incontrovertible reasons. Young men are not all fools, and they dare not think of asking these painted butterflies to marry:—First, because they are wholly unfitted to make good wives; and secondly, having been raised to self-indulgence and unlimited extravagance, no man but with a princely fortune could support them. It is a most alarming truth, that the number of marriages in Massachusetts has fallen off one-half. Since gold became abundant, children wear dresses like women —like the wives and daughters of the wealthy. O! sad, sad will be the day, when the holy institution of marriage is held, in free America, in the light estimation it is in Paris.

As I am writing, a letter is put into my hands from the father of the poor girl about whom I told you in a former number—one of the many we meet in Bridewell, who, having no "place of refuge," return on their discharge, "like the dog to his vomit," to their haunts of sin and crime. The poor, broken-hearted one begged us to write to her father. We did so. This letter is that father's reply. He has not seen or heard of his poor child for ten years. His arms, house and heart are open to receive her. We go to Bridewell with the good news, but she has gone. Some fiend in man's clothes had come, or sent, paid her fine, and taken her away, "for she was fair to look upon."

Our churches in this city give annually more than $20,000 in aid of Foreign Missions, and it is well. If we did more at home, we may, by cherishing "the grace of giving," become so happy as to have "given grace" to do much, much more, abroad. Z.

HIS HOPES TO REFORM US.—The editor of the Buffalo Express, in his paper of the 4th inst. copies an article from our paper, gives credit to the Democratic Press, and then fires away at us, vainly endeavoring to prove that "it is our duty" to support their measures. He likens himself to a missionary, that is toiling for the purpose of converting us to his faith; and hopes the time will come when we will see that this matter of the discrimination of tolls, is not a mere wrangle between Oswego and Buffalo, but an eminently wise and just measure of State policy for New York. He thinks that our views of the matter are too extensive, although he admits that it is the duty of the people of Illinois to acquiesce, and even aid, in carrying out any line of policy that will save its finances from dilapidation. Now, what sensible people of Illinois, unlike the people of Buffalo, see this matter with an unbiased vision. It is with us a question of dollars and cents, and not one of local interests. We are not one whit more partial to Oswego than we are to Buffalo, or any other city, and should be well pleased to see them all prosper (not, however, at the expense of the downfall of Oswego); and if Oswego or Ogdensburgh, through the enterprise of her citizens, have established and built up routes and lines of communication between the Seaboard and the great West, whereby the Western man can ship his goods or produce by their routes at a saving to him and a profit to them, we see no good reason why he should be debarred from enjoying the benefits arising from their sagacity and enterprise.

Buffalo for a long time enjoyed a monopoly of the carrying trade between the East and West, and so secure did they think themselves in that monopoly, that they became boastful, as we can show by again quoting their own language, as expressed through their Committee, on Jan. 1, 1841—R. Betts, O. G. Steele and E. G. Spaulding being said Committee. They said "that the situation of Buffalo Harbor is such, that it must of necessity command nearly the entire commerce of the Western country bordering on Lake Erie and the Upper Lakes. It is the natural outlet for their surplus productions, and the trade cannot, by any effort of man, be directed, to any extent, from this, its natural channel."

Now people can see from the above how much the Buffalonians thought themselves, and for a long time they made the Western men pay pretty roundly for the privilege of passing through with their goods; but since other channels have been opened and the Western man finds he can possibly save something, and therefore patronize them, the Buffalonians all begin to talk about the State protecting them by discriminating tolls, &c., and they now [illegible]

[illegible]

We are contending for what we consider our own interests; you are doing the same. We know where the shoe pinches; so do you; and you can rely that the Western man will always send his products by the quickest and cheapest route, and if Buffalonians can carry cheaper than their neighbors, they will get the preference, and vice versa. But we still maintain that Chicago is not indebted to the Erie Canal for her present greatness; nor shall her citizens assist in crushing other cities for the purpose of adding to the wealth of Buffalonians.

We are also gratified to learn from the Express that all jealousy and envy towards Chicago has ceased to exist with them, although we cannot forget the many wise predictions of the sages of their city during the past three years, that the bubble would soon burst, &c., and cannot now help thinking of the "mote and the beam."

GERMAN MASQUERADE NEXT THURSDAY EVENING.—All who had the fortune to attend the last German Masquerade at the German Hall on Wells street will be pleased to learn that on next Thursday evening (to-morrow) another of these delightful parties will be given in the same Hall.

On this occasion the nett proceeds will be devoted to improving the German Theatre.

Preparations have been made for the production of a number of beautiful tableaux, in the style of those given by the Keller Troupe. Among them we notice "The Maid of Saragossa," "the Brigands in the Abruzzi," and "The Night of St. Bartholomew." The arrangements for these tableaux are very complete, and that they will be successful there can be no doubt.

We have been favored with a peep at some of the costumes prepared for this occasion and find them very elegantly made up. Some of the costumes are really superb, and the scene in the Ball Room will be a brilliant and enchanting one. On this occasion persons will be admitted upon the floor without masks, and as the programme of dances embraces a number of quadrilles many American citizens will no doubt be in attendance. The galleries of the Hall will be reserved for spectators, and seats may be procured at the office of the Theatre. Tickets of admission one dollar for each person.

MATTERS OF BUSINESS.

"HOPE ON, HOPE EVER."—This sublime advice has been given more than once to the poor consumptive by those who have witnessed the unparalleled efficacy, as a curer of pulmonary evils, of Dr. H. James' Extract of Cannabis Indica. The old doctor's son-in-law, Dr. Tilton, has been stopping for a short time at room No. 11, Massasoit House, in this city, and during his stay has restored more people's cases than we care to catalogue. He has a brief and comprehensive course of treatment, devised by Dr. James himself, which cures permanently and pleasantly the worst cases of consumption, asthma and bronchitis, and removes health, when a regulation upon the grave was only expected. The Cannabis Indica destroys the worst fresh cold ever contracted and cures it thoroughly in forty-eight hours. It banishes coughs speedily. It works wonders with sufferers by nervous disorganization. This is high praise, but it is deserved. Let those who doubt it visit Dr. Tilton.

P. S.—By addressing Dr. Tilton a note through the Chicago Post Office, inclosing four postage stamps—a recipe will be sent in return free of charge, to any part of the Union.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE MARKET.

[illegible] Wednesday Evening, March 11, 1857.

The MONEY MARKET continues about the same [illegible]

The general markets have not been active the past week, and the weather having been cold and unfavorable; but within three days, more activity is noted.

DRY GOODS wholesalers are beginning to reap a rich harvest, and several of them are selling from $8,000 to $10,000 ⅌ week. Their stocks are large, and their purchases having been made previous to the rise in various classes of articles, they are selling at low as goods can be now had in New York; and purchasers bound for New York are daily stopped here, and [illegible]

BEEF is in demand, with small supply; 1,000 bbls Mess Beef sold ... [illegible]

FLOUR is appreciating gradually and will likely reach $6.00 ⅌ bbl by the opening. [illegible] Saturday, and the daily receipts at large are a thousand or two bbls. At Milwaukee, [illegible]

FISH are in demand and scarce. Three to fifth if any Herring to wholesalers' hands. White Fish are $8.25@8.50 for No. 1 halves.

FRUIT.—Oranges are plenty at $4.50@5 ⅌ box; Lemons at $4@4.50 ⅌ box. Green Apples plenty at $2.00@3.00 ⅌ bbl; dried do. $1.25@1.50 ⅌ bushel; dried Peaches, unpared, 12½c ⅌ lb. New M. R. Raisins $3; layers $4.25@4.50. Cranberries $3.50 ⅌ bu.

FURS—The following prices are paid by dealers at present:—Raccoon, 10c to 25c; Mink, 25c to 85c; Cross Fox, $1.25 to $3.00; Red Fox, 25c to $1.25; Grey Fox, [illegible] Otter, $3 to $5.00; Bear, $2.00 to $6.00; Cats, 30c to $1.00; Wild Cat, 20c to 30c; House Cat, 5c to 10c; Beaver, $1.00 to $1.50; Muskrat 10c to 15c; Opossum, 10c to 15c; Wolf, 25c to $1.00; Badger, 15c to 25c; Fisher, $1.00 to $4.00; Martin $1.00 to $3.00; Lynx, $1.00 to 2.00; Deer Skins ⅌ lb 15c to 25c.

FUEL is yet plenty; the roads being pretty good, Oak is selling from wagons in the streets at $4.50@5.00 ⅌ cord, and Beech and Maple at $7.00@7.50 per cord. Good quantities of Illinois Coal continue to arrive by rail, and the Eastern Coal will likely last till receipts begin to be had by lake in June. 100 tons of Briar Hill sold, to-day to a distiller at $8.75 per ton, delivered.

GRAIN.—WHEAT is getting in better demand. Few cargoes have been sold during the past week. A sale of 15,000 bushels of Milwaukee Club, [illegible] to-day at $1.25½, on board at Milwaukee 1st of May; 15c. per bushel down, or $1,500—sold by a Milwaukee gentleman to a Chicago firm. [illegible] would bring 85c. For delivery on board, at the opening, 81 is about the rate, payable on delivery, or 80c. half cash down.

CORN is but dull, [illegible]

OATS are more plenty. One warehouse has been considerably filled the past week at 30@32c, delivered in bags—in bulk as much cannot be had.

RYE is inquired after for distilling; 58c. and possibly something over, would be given.

BARLEY is greatly sought for at $2 per bushel for seed; and demand to [illegible]

GROCERIES have remained rather quiet, until a few days past, when more activity has been manifest. [illegible]

NEW VESSEL FOR LIVERPOOL.—Captain D. C. Pierce, of Clayton, New York, has contracted with Quayle & Martin of Cleveland (says the Herald) for a hermaphrodite brig of 300 tons measurement, to be ready in July, to take on cargo for Liverpool direct. Captain Pierce, it will be recollected, owned half the schooner Dean Richmond and her cargo, and sailed her from Chicago to Liverpool last season.

SENATE.—Mr. Benjamin, from Committee on Judiciary, made a report asking to be discharged from further consideration of the protest of the Democratic members of the Pennsylvania Legislature against the right of Cameron to a seat. Pugh presented a minority report.

The Remains of Dr. Kane.

PHILADELPHIA, March 11.

The remains of Dr. Kane, arrived at the Baltimore Depot, and were escorted over the route by the first troop of cavalry, Washington Greys acting as guard of honor.

The body was placed in Independence Hall, and the interior of all entrances were draped in mourning. The coffin had been tastefully decorated with wreaths, the voluntary offerings of Peter McKeogh, an intimate friend of the deceased.

The flags throughout the city are at half mast, and draped in mourning. Large crowds gathered at all points with the view to see the remains.

WASHINGTON, March 10.

The rule announced by the heads of the Departments to subordinates, is, that a removal will not be made without cause. Heads of Bureaus were notified to communicate this determination, to relieve clerks from anxiety.

Mr. Cobb has added to the present causes of dismissal that of dealing in lottery tickets and frequenting gaming houses.

He also required the Board of Examiners sitting on applications for clerkships, to make their investigations rigid, and not nominal. Four years' service in important places, is regarded, by the President as furnishing a reason of change whether the commissions be expired or not.

Secretary Brown has notified the assistant Postmaster Generals that they will not be retained, also the Chief Clerk of that department. The expired commissions in Tennessee were renewed yesterday.

The Quarantine Question.

TRENTON, N. J., March 11.

In the Legislature of New Jersey to-day, the Committee on the Quarantine Question reported that any action on the part of New York to use any part of the soil or waters of New Jersey, without the consent of the Legislature of that State, would be an infringement of rights. They proposed a law giving the Governor power to be made use of for the prevention of infringements upon their State's rights. The memorial of the New York Commissioners on Quarantine was presented, and read. Messrs. Robbins, Nicholday, Thornton and Herbert were appointed to meet the New York Commissioners, who are now here.

DAILY TRIBUNE.

No. 53 CLARK STREET.

CITY OF CHICAGO.

Thursday Morning.........March 12, 1857.

Six to Three.

In the Dred Scott case, three Judges, viz: McLean, Curtis and Grier, decided in favor of the constitutionality of the Missouri Compromise. The five slaveholding Judges decided against it, aided by one Northern doughface Nelson, of New York.

All Hail, New Hampshire.

The voice of the Granite State rings out clear and strong for Justice and Republicanism. Her people know their rights, and will maintain them. They know what the common weal demands, and will do their part towards securing it. Three cheers for New Hampshire! She is sound to the core. Her Governor, her Legislature, her Congressmen—are all Republican!

The Next State Fair.

The Executive Committee of the State Agricultural Society have determined on holding the next State Fair at Peoria on the 21st, 22d, 23d, 24th and 25th of September, and have further settled upon offering $10,000 in premiums. A trial of Reapers will take place at Salem, Marion County, sometime in June.

Send Him to Virginia.

One of the F. F. V's of Virginia offers to subscribe $100 towards buying Pierce a plantation well stocked with negroes, as a Southern token of gratitude, for his devotion while President, to slaveholding interests.

To this a New Hampshire man says, that New Hampshire will subscribe double as much as Virginia for that purpose, and that he will subscribe $200, provided Pierce agrees to live on it for the remainder of his life.

We hope both these offers will be accepted, and the plantation bought as soon as possible.—Let him live among those he served the balance of his days, infamous and contented.

Great Republican Victory in New Hampshire!

REPUBLICAN GOVERNOR, CONGRESSMEN AND LEGISLATURE ELECTED!

CONCORD, March 11.

"One hundred and thirteen towns heard from, give Haile, the Republican candidate for Governor, 20,655 votes; Wells, Democrat, 17,475, K. N. Hadduck, 168. In the House, the Republicans thus far, have 129 members, and the Democrats, 52. The Council and Senate are Republican, and all the Republican Congressmen are elected."

We received the above good news, last evening, by telegraph.

The pro-slavery party felt the strongest confidence that they would carry New Hampshire this spring, but they have miserably failed. This is the first response to Buchanan's Inaugural, to be followed by a long series of a similar character from other States.

Who are Negroes?

Chief Justice Taney decides, in the Dred Scott case, that negroes are not citizens of the United States. He defines a negro to be a person "whose ancestors were imported, and sold as slaves." And upon this definition he proceeded to build his decision. But are persons who are part white—mulattoes, for instance—not citizens? How is it with those, one of whose ancestors emigrated to this country from Europe? And how is it with that large class in whose veins the blood of the white preponderates? How much white blood is necessary to make a native born American a citizen? Will Chief Justice Taney settle the question? There are tens of thousands of men more than half white, many of whose sires belong to the real F. F. V.s, and nearly all of their fathers claim to belong to the chivalry. It is important to settle the status of these people. They are very numerous, and, in the Slave States, rapidly multiplying.

St. Louis, Alton and Chicago Railroad.

Since this road passed into the hands of Gov. Matteson and his associates, its affairs have undergone a complete revolution. Instead of being, as it lately was, unsafe, unreliable and vexatious to travelers, it has become one of the safest, most certain and agreeable lines of travel in the West. New life and energy have been freely infused into its management in all its departments, from the President's office down to the lamp-cleaner's caboose; and passengers are now whirled along its fine bed at the highest rate of speed known in the West, and with the agreeable satisfaction that they incur no other danger to their necks than that incidental to all railroad travel. The floating debt of the Company, incurred along the line for construction and materials furnished—most of which is of years' standing—is being rapidly paid off; a direct connection has been made by rail with St. Louis; new rolling stock is daily coming on to supply the demands of the increasing travel and traffic, and altogether its affairs are in an eminently prosperous condition.

We are glad to chronicle these facts. The road penetrates a country in which Chicago struggles with St. Louis for the local trade; and whatever makes transit over it cheap and certain, will redound to the benefit of the one city or the other. In the rivalry which it establishes we have no fear that Chicago will play second fiddle to her older but not more prosperous competitor. And we are glad also on another account: we are afforded an opportunity to pay a deserved compliment to the business sagacity of Gov. Matteson, to whom the public are indebted for the wonderful improvement in this road, which he has, in so short a time, effected. He is now in his sphere, and it will be a misfortune to the State if he leaves it to dabble again in the muddle pool of politics.

Sidewalks—A Uniform Grade.

Mayor Wentworth has promised the city good side-walks and as suggestions are invited in the Inaugural, and are now in order, we have one to make on the subject of sidewalks.

Our motion is that, all the side-walks within specified bounds be brought to some uniform grade, some common level, so far as practicable. For instance State street side-walks as far south as Twelfth street; Dearborn to Madison street, and Clark south to Twelfth, and north to Chicago Avenue; LaSalle to the Depot; Wells from the bridge to Monroe street; South Water from the Richmond House to the South Branch; Lake from the Illinois Depot to the bridge; Randolph from South Market to West Market; and Kinzie street, North side, from the bridge east to the Galena Freight Depot.

On the streets within these limits, nearly the whole population of Chicago pass and re-pass, daily. These are the great traveled thoroughfares. The tens of thousands of strangers who ebb and flow through our city conflict most of their walking upon them. And did one of these ever omit to complain of the disagreeable ups and downs that obstructed his progress at almost every step? No man is justified in impeding the free right of way for pedestrians. [illegible] Lake or Clark street; go [illegible] forward you go down four steps; go last [illegible] about you meet a steep inclined plane, over which you ascend, and a roll forward you slide down a corresponding grade; then perhaps the navigation is tolerable for half a block when your further progress is suddenly stopped by a flight of steep, narrow steps carrying you up to the second story of the adjoining building; onward and a quarter of a mile [illegible] you safely to the brink of the precipice on the other side, down which you [illegible] to crawl or fall, and so on, and so forth, to the end of your walk, up and down, down and up, steps narrow and high, inclines slippery and steep. In fine dry summer weather, during daylight hours, a careful, circumspect person may get along with comparative safety. But in winter and spring, when rain, mud, snow or ice covers these walks the danger to life is increased; and at night it becomes positively unsafe. Who has not received a fall or a sprain or a fright in trying to avoid a fall? And every body. These side walks are public nuisances, as well as reproaches upon the city in the eyes of strangers.

When a man builds a house he fixes the grade of the side walk to suit his private purposes, paying not the slightest regard to the convenience or rights of the public, and city officials have paid no attention to his conduct. The result is, what we see. The government of no other city on the American Continent would tolerate such side walks.

We are aware that the new grade which is being adopted, is claimed to be the cause of the irregularity. But it is not necessarily so; [illegible] the "maps grade." [illegible] the "ups" and "downs" could be raised or lowered [illegible] without interfering with the new grade.

Now, if the new Mayor is sincere in his professions [illegible]

The Past and Present.

It was a proud day for Great Britain when Mansfield, speaking for the Judiciary of that land, and the law which should govern it, announced, that whatever the condition of a man might have been elsewhere, the moment he trod English soil he was free. The glory of that decision has not yet passed away, nor will it ever subside. But as if our highest Judicial officers meant to put themselves in dark contrast with it, they have (with three exceptions,) not only ignored its principle, but set their flinty faces against the policy of our part, whether that policy rested upon the goodly doctrine of the Common Law, or the noble sentiments of the Declaration of Independence.

We must confess we are shocked at the violence and servility of the Judicial Revolution caused by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States. We scarcely know how to express our detestation of its inhuman dicta, or to fathom the wicked consequences which may flow from it. The blood of the early day—of the times that tried mens souls—was all healthful and strong, and lived, or was shed, for Liberty as freely as water. That is now changed legally. This decision has sapped the constitution of its glorious and distinctive features, and seeks to pervert it into a barbarous and unchristian channel.

Jefferson feared this Supreme Court, and foretold its usurpation of the legislative power of the Federal Government. His prophecy is now reality. The terrible evil he dreaded is upon us.

To say or suppose, that a Free People can respect or will obey a decision so fraught with disastrous consequences to the People and their Liberties, is to dream of impossibilities. No power can take away their rights. They will permit no power to abridge them. No servility of Judges or of Presidents, no servility of Congresses can taint their spirit or subdue it. The contest has come, and in that contest, the Supreme Court, we are sorry to say, will be shorn of its moral power—will lose that prestige, that authority, which instinctively insures respect and commands obedience. By its own bad act it has impaired its organization. Fortunate will it be, if that act does not destroy its utility.

The New York Evening Post says:

The time which is chosen for this juridical revolution—just after the adjournment of that department of the government most injured by the decision, and at the commencement of a new administration, when all the patronage of the nation can be used to the best advantage in reconciling the people to its doctrines—shows, when taken in connection with the doctrines themselves, and the constitution of the court, that a majority of its members have consented to become parties to a combination with the administration to transfer the political control of this government to the hands of the slave oligarchy, beyond the possibility of a recovery by the free states of their fair share of influence.

So long as the subject was within the range of Congressional action, so long the voice of the people could be heard, and their wishes could impress the legislation of the country. To get the subject beyond the reach of these influences, to make every judicial tribunal in the nation and every lawyer a sworn ally of slavery propagandism, it was only necessary to secure the cooperation of the Supreme Court, and that has been done. A conspiracy has been entered into of the most treasonable character; the Justices of the Supreme Court and the leading members of the new administration are parties to it. One who runs may read the evidence of it in every revelation from the capital.

Of course the moment this conviction takes possession of the public mind, there is an end of the Supreme Court; for a judicial tribunal, which is not rooted in the confidence of the people, will soon either be disregarded as an authority or overturned.

Which of these fates is in store for the court at Washington, we do not care now to speculate about—perhaps both; one thing, however, is perfectly certain—that its ancient and proper authority with the people and with Congress is gone beyond recovery. The last objection to the election of the judges of this court by the people is now removed. Its members have long borne but an indifferent reputation for learning and ability, but it has been usual to concede to them independence and an insensibility to the political influences which swayed the other branches of the government. It now appears that they are but a branch of the Executive, and like the famous Lits de Justice of France before the Revolution, merely assist in lending a judicial sanction to the policy dictated by the Executive or his advisers from the other end of the capital. Such an alliance will not be permitted to continue.

That there has been for long years a conspiracy against Freedom in this Republic, and that certain members of the Supreme Court were engaged in it, we do not doubt. How this has happened, or why, it is needless to discuss now. It is enough to know, that a continued residence at Washington—the breathing in of its central and polluted atmosphere makers, or tends to make, those in authority, at once obedient and servile to the ruling dynasty, and callous to the purer and higher instincts and principles of the people. The Judiciary has proved no exception. We would, therefore, apply the remedy which Jefferson urged, and Jackson recommended—decentralization. Strip the President of every power which the people can exercise. Let every office which they are able to fill, be filled by them. Confide into their hands the election of the Judges of the United States, and then infuse into these Judges a knowledge of their interests, a spirit and a purpose kindred with theirs, an independence of the Executive worthy of them.

Appointment of City Officers—Something for the New Council.

The new Council, organized on Tuesday last, will be required to confirm or reject the appointment, by the Mayor, of a large number of officers. To the members of that body we commend the following extract from Section Five of the late amendments to the City Charter:

"And no member of the Common Council, head of a Department, clerk, city officer, assistant or employee in any department of said City, shall be directly or indirectly interested in any contract, work or business, or the sale of any article the expense, price or consideration of which is paid from the City treasury, under the penalty of immediate removal from office."

It will be seen from this, that no city officer can be interested directly or indirectly in any contract or work of any kind whatsoever done for the city, under penalty of immediate removal from office. It is well known that a number of the present city officials are interested, and some of them quite largely, in work done, and contracted to be done, for the city. The new Council should take prompt measures to remove all these officials, and should exercise great care that both the letter and the spirit of the law above quoted, be rigidly enforced. In the face of this provision, it is not likely that officials will become directly interested in contracts with the city, but that they will, to a certain extent, if not strictly watched, become indirectly interested, is quite possible, and hence the necessity of exercising extraordinary care in confirming appointments and in watching the appointees during their official terms.

We write this in no spirit of fault-finding. We are anxious that the Republican Administration shall faithfully carry out this, as well as other wise provisions in our charter, and that our municipal affairs shall be administered so justly and properly as to redeem, at least the greater part of the pledges made for it to the people. The temptation to officials to feather their nests from the city treasury, is always great, and especially is it so, where ample opportunity is offered. Again we say, see to it that not one city officer is permitted to be interested, to any extent in the contracts, for work of any kind with the city.

NEW BOOKS.

HISTORY OF THE INVASION AND CAPTURE OF WASHINGTON, [illegible] By John S. Williams. New York: Harper & Brothers.

The object of the author of this work, who was Brigade Major and Inspector of the Columbian Brigade, in the war of 1812, evidently is to transfer the obloquy which had been cast upon the American Troops engaged in the battle of Bladensburg to the shoulders of those who, in his judgment, are entitled to it. The materials for the book were found in the public documents in the archives at Washington, letters from officers engaged in the affray, and distinguished public men who were in Washington at the time, and manuscript papers of Mr. Madison, now in the possession of Col. Force.

As a link in the history of our nation it will be read with interest, even by those who may dissent entirely from the conclusions of the author. Containing, as it does, many extracts from public documents, letters, etc. interesting to historical readers it will doubtless find, as it ought, a place in almost every library. Messrs. Griggs & Wells, Lake Street, have the book.

Border Ruffianism in the Indiana Legislature.

The Border Ruffian Legislators of Indiana have capped the climax of insolence and audacity by clogging the wheels of legislation, defying the will of a majority of the Senate, and scoffing at all legislative rules and parliamentary usages. And the Legislature has been forced to adjourn without passing the Revenue, General Appropriation and Appraisement bills, to the great discomfiture of the State departments, which are left wholly destitute of means, and the ability to meet their necessary expenditures.

For such an injurious and deplorable result, the Border Ruffian Democracy are alone responsible. The trouble originated in a contested election case, between Mr. Weir (Rep.) and Mr. Miller (Dem.), which was made the special order of business for Saturday, March 7th, the last working day of the session. The Slave Democracy, at this late hour, refused to consider the case, or to allow the Senate to act upon the important measures demanding attention. The Republicans tried every method of conciliation. They even proposed sending back both contestants, although it had been proved that Mr. Miller was legally entitled to his seat. "But," says the Indianapolis Journal, "the Democrats had said that nothing should be done with the Miller case if all other business was left undone."

And they kept their word. They had the power by revolution to defeat the majority, and they did it. They carried out their declaration and did prevent any business being done. The Republicans insisted, as the rules of legislation required, that the case should be disposed of, and they tried every way to get it disposed of before anything else was done. They adhered, in this policy, to the law. The Democrats said it should not be acted on, and by threats of staving off all the business of the session expected to drive the Republicans to surrender. They mistook the character of the men they were dealing with, as they have done more than once this session. The Republicans were not to be driven by threats of a faction from a strict observance of the rules, and they said that if the Democrats were willing to shoulder the responsibility of this driving off business they could do it.

They did shoulder the responsibility and the session closed at 3 o'clock Sunday morning, while Indiana is left without a Revenue or Appraisement Bill, and the State Institutions without the means of support.

If such infamous and revolutionary proceedings do not awaken the citizens of Indiana to a perception of the true character of Border Ruffianism, they must be enveloped in more than Egyptian darkness. The Border Ruffian Legislators of Kansas, and the "Democratic" Legislators of Indiana are about on a par.

Corporation Printing.

The Mayor Elect has some singular notions about a Corporation Newspaper. In order to economize the expense of city printing he recommends:

"That before the designation of Corporation Newspaper is made, the Council fix the compensation at the mere first cost of setting the type, taking the list of prices established by the Typographical Society as the standard. This will furnish the readers of the corporation newspaper in advance of all other papers the full official proceedings of the Council without cost to the publisher. The expense to the city will be about $2.50 per column."

The error the Mayor commits is, in supposing that cutting down the price of publishing the proceedings of the Council will materially reduce the expense of doing the city printing. It is in publishing the multitude of street notices, ordinances, and other legal advertisements, and the job printing done for the city that makes up the great bulk of the $8,000 paid last year to the corporation paper—the Times. Publishing the Council Proceedings can cost but a few hundred dollars at most. Papers of limited circulation and small advertising patronage, may be willing to load up their columns with a prosy, long spun out report of the Council proceedings in order to fill a vacuum, for no better compensation than the cost of the type setting, but the leading business papers would hardly covet the job, unless they expect to make up their loss out of the other corporation printing and publishing.

The Mayor also recommends "that an ordinance be passed allowing to every proprietor of a daily newspaper who shall copy in full the proceedings of the Common Council as they shall appear in the corporation newspaper, a sum equal to one-half of that paid the proprietor of the corporation newspaper." And adds, that "he has no doubt but all the publishers will avail themselves of this advantage."

For the information of the Mayor we will inform him that there is one newspaper in Chicago, possessing a city circulation of more than double that of his own paper which will not "avail itself of the proposed privilege" of "copying in full" the stale, second-hand "proceedings of the Common Council, after they shall have first appeared in the Corporation newspaper," at half type setting price.

We will go as far as the farthest to sustain the Mayor in carrying into effect every needful, practicable, common sense retrenchment; but the plan laid down in the Inaugural in regard to city printing, is simply absurd.

There is no reason, moral, legal or equitable, why publishers should not be paid a fair, honest compensation for their printing services, as well as other employees of the city. This Journal will enter upon no miserable scramble for city printing, nor offer to do it for nothing, or at half composition rates, in order to spite some competing rival; and we hope no other establishment, possessing the slightest self respect, will be guilty of such unmanly conduct.

The Slavery Question—The Decision of the Supreme Court.

The decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Dred Scott completes the nationalization of Slavery. Slavery is no longer a local institution—the creature of local law—dependent for its existence and protection upon State sovereignty and State legislation. It is incorporated into the Constitution of the United States. Its tenure is the tenure of all property, and the Constitution protects and preserves it, to the same extent and upon the same principle as it protects any other property of any kind whatever. This is the fundamental position which the Supreme Court has just asserted, and upon which all its decisions in this case rest. Congress cannot exclude Slavery from Federal territory, because the right to slaves is the right to property, and cannot be divested. For the same reason the people of the Territory cannot exclude Slavery from their own domain. And when the time for the next step comes, we shall have it in the logical sequence, that no State Government has a right to deprive any citizen of property, which the Constitution of the United States protects him in holding.

It is not too much to say that this decision revolutionizes the Federal Government, and changes entirely the relation which Slavery has hitherto held towards it. Slavery is no longer local; it is national. The Federal Government is no longer held aloof from it, as a thing wholly and exclusively out of its jurisdiction;—it is brought directly within its sphere and put immediately under its protection. The doctrine of State Rights, so long its friend, is now its foe.—New York Times.

The Dred Scott Case.

Presidents and Judges, waving their wands over "the agitation," exclaim "Peace, be still," and yet, by their own acts, are swelling them into a deep and resistless stream. "The whole slavery question was re-opened to-day," says a Washington writer, of March the 6th, "by the proceedings of the Supreme Court, and that tribunal has voluntarily introduced itself into the political arena." "If spirits and denunciation," says another writer, from the same place, "could sink a judicial body, the Supreme Court of the United States would never be heard of again."

All compromises are now put aside, and the naked issue before the People of the Republic, is, whether Freedom or Slavery shall rule it. If a man may own a man in a Territory, Slave Laws must be enacted to give him this usurped right. Once elect a Republican President and Congress, and this will become an impossibility. Once put the Government on the side of Freedom, and there will be no new Slave States and no more Slave Territory.

River Matters—The Mississippi and other Streams.—The St. Louis Intelligencer of the 9th, has the following:

The weather here continues cold, and the water is falling very fast. The steamer W. L. Ewing, that left here last week for the Galena and St. Paul, came back yesterday, having gone no further than Muscatine. The river is frozen over solid four miles above Muscatine, and heavily loaded wagons are crossing on the ice. The weather during the trip was intensely cold, and at Muscatine it was twelve degrees below zero at [illegible] point on Friday morning. The Upper Mississippi is falling fast, and so is the Illinois. The Keokuk boats have trouble in making their way through the heavy floating ice between Quincy and Keokuk.

The Missouri river is getting quite low, [illegible]

CLOSE OF THE BOGUS LEGISLATURE—BLOODY ENACTMENTS—CHARACTER OF LAWS PASSED—GOV. GEARY'S TRUE CHARACTER DEVELOPED.

Special Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.

LECOMPTON, K. T., Feb. 23, '57.

The bogus territorial Legislature has drawn its labors to a close. The term fixed for their deliberations expired, and after a great hurry of legislation for two days before its close, its labors wound up. This session has passed a large number of laws. The great bulk of these are of a private character, and some of these very outrageous. At the same time, there has been a considerable amount of general legislation. For outrages in the shape of laws, this session exceeds the last. Some of the laws are of a character such as never before disgraced a republican country; and, what is the most lamentable, Gov. Geary has approved the most of them.

This Legislature, we were told, was to repeal the most obnoxious laws. They have repealed little or nothing; the little they did do being an insult and a farce. They repealed the 12th section of the slave law, but the other sections are just as bad and equally an outrage. They could not get the repeal of the test oaths through the lower House, even with the argument that it would really aid them, in its favor; but a patched-up pretence of doing so was forced through, which does not amount to anything, but which will give their doughface friends in the North a very slim foundation to talk about what they have done in the way of repealing obnoxious laws.

While their repeals amount to nothing, they have really enacted worse laws than disgraced their legislation last session. The Kansas statutes of this session are infamously tyrannical. The rebellion bill, the mob and sedition act and the judiciary laws, are worse than anything that could have been conceived; yet Gov. Geary signed these. After that he may sign anything.

The Legislature on the eve of its adjournment passed the following resolution:

Whereas, The relation existing between the Executive and Legislative branches of our Territorial Government are of the most friendly kind, therefore Resolved, By the House of Representatives, Council concurring, that the two Houses proceed at the close of the Session to-night, to visit His Excellency at his Office, and exhibit such friendly feeling as becomes one branch of our Government to show another, with appearances of regard and esteem for his individual welfare.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to His Excellency, and another for publication.

Geary had invited them to his office in a friendly way. The Legislature closed its labors after midnight on the 20th, and immediately adjourned to the Governor's Office, where they remained until morning, drinking and making speeches. The Governor made a speech to them, and said that he would see that the laws they had enacted were enforced. He complimented them on the result of their labors.—Most of them got decidedly drunk. Fit consummation of their villainy.

Towards the close of the Session a bill was passed which is an amendment to the election law of the territory. This is designed to regulate the next general election in October. At that election a new legislative and other officers for the Territory are to be selected. No new census for that election is to be made. The census taken for the Constitutional Convention is to include the voters at the October election, and none may vote then who have not, according to the bogus Sheriff's list, been inhabitants on the 1st of April, 1857. This is to cut off all the emigration of next season, and to extend the fraudulent census for the Constitutional Convention, to the regular election. It was admitted in debate that unless this was done, there would be a complete defeat of the party now in power. Under this law the Territory is divided into new districts, and Reeder's districts changed.

The bill to allow militia companies to elect their own officers, was defeated in the Council. The Council had several secret sessions. These are believed to be intrigues about Missouri voting. Joint sessions, took place once or twice during the last week. Militia officers, prosecuting attorneys, county judges, commissioners, sheriffs, &c., were elected at these joint sessions. The people are still defrauded of their rights to elect their officers. These are appointed by this body.

By this, it will be seen that there is no intention on the part of the pro-slavery party to forego the advantages they have obtained. The Government is sustaining their present villainy and they are making it the sure tools of more political crimes, which will complete the purpose for which they have done so much. Gov. Geary has proved himself to be either a traitor or incapable of maintaining a manly position against the Border Ruffians. In spite of great exertions on his part to form a Geary party from the Free State ranks, he is fast losing the respect of all whose respect is worth anything.

CHRISTIAN.

[Our Kansas correspondent sends us, in addition to the above, a copy of the bill passed by the Bogus Legislature for the purpose of forming a pro-slavery constitution, but as we have already published a full synopsis, we do not think it worth the while to re-publish it entire. We append our correspondent's review, which will be found interesting.—Ed. Trib.]

The measure was vetoed by Gov. Geary, and passed over his veto. It will at once go into operation, unless Congress forms an enabling act to prevent it. It is passed so as to wear an aspect of fairness on its face, to those who are not acquainted with business affairs. As it stands, the Free State men have not the slightest chance under it. The census, election and all, is completely in the hands of the bogus officers, who are, without exception unprincipled, reckless, pro-slavery men. It cuts off all this season's emigration, and all Western Missouri will be listed as voters, under the pretense that they are inhabitants on the 1st of April. The arrangement of the districts show that fraud is intended. All the thinly settled counties on the frontier are full districts, while of the thickly settled Free State counties it takes several. Any other fraud may be perpetrated. No rule is laid down to govern the census taken at bogus counts. The few penalties spoken of in the law would have to be inflicted by a pro-slavery judiciary.

There is no chance for justice under this law. The Free State people meet in delegate convention on the 10th of March, to determine what they shall do. The pro-slavery men, and Geary, are anxious that the Free State men should vote, as they fear Congress will regard no election as favorable till they do. As there is no chance for fair play, they will likely have nothing to do with them. The act is to take effect immediately.

Such a law is a disgrace to any country calling itself republican. Gov. Geary signed it, as he did all others of the same sort. It will be put in force. It is to crush the Free State cause and make Free State agitation Rebellion. As it will be a weapon in the hands of bogus officers it will only operate on Free State men. If all the iniquities of this legislature are put in force we will have a rebellion in earnest. Gov. Geary says they will be, but we will see.

CHRISTIAN.

The Mississippi Entanglement.—A paragraph has recently appeared, stating that the State of Mississippi had got its affairs so complicated by crude legislation as to render it doubtful whether, under existing laws, her officers were not perpetual. It seems the matter was referred to the legislature, whose action in the premises is thus given by the Mississippian:

"The committee to whom was referred the message of the Governor relative to the recent amendments of the constitution, have submitted a report through their chairman, the substance of which is that there is no conflict between the [illegible] amendment and the election amendment, except that, as the constitution now stands, by virtue of these two amendments, the members of the legislature now in session will be compelled to hold the session which convenes on the first Monday in November, 1857, and those elected at the October election in 1857, could not hold a regular session until the first Monday in November, 1859. In other words, the members elect could not hold a regular term until twenty-five months after their election, which must continue to be the case under the present system. As to the election of Governor and other officers, the committee think there is no difficulty. To remedy the incongruities in relation to the members of the legislature, a portion of the committee recommend the passage of a bill proposing an additional amendment to the constitution."

Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac Railroad.—This popular road now runs two passenger trains daily (Sundays excepted) from this city to Chicago—leaving at 5.30 a. m. and 5.00 p. m., arriving at Chicago at 2 p. m. and 11 p. m. The efficient manner in which this road is managed, is giving it a wide popularity, and it must do a very heavy business for the year to come.—Janesville Gazette.

Frauds upon Commerce.

[From the Daily Cleveland Plaindealer.]

We cheerfully give place to the following communication from Messenger & Co., the eminent importers of New York, as we are well aware of the general interest, as well as public good, affected by the impositions alluded to. It is, moreover, a portion of the mission of the Press to expose knavery even in high places, and we would be delinquent in our duty towards the common weal, were we to suffer the gross impositions intended to be perpetrated upon our community, to pass unnoticed:

To the Editors of the Chicago Daily Tribune:

Learning from our agents that unprincipled parties are endeavoring to palm off upon the community of the Western country a fraudulent imitation or counterfeit of "Messenger's London Cordial Gin" as the genuine and imported article, we deem it our duty to denounce, through your columns, the perpetration of so gross an outrage upon the commercial world, and to caution the people of the West against the trap skillfully laid for them. Besides the acknowledged iniquity of fraud, the fabricators of the spurious article purporting to bear our name and brand, not only would rob us of the untarnished virtue of the fair repute we now enjoy, but would jeopardize the continuance of the flattering patronage it has taken us two years of arduous labor and a considerable expenditure of money to ensure.

We were the first commercial firm to introduce the LONDON CORDIAL GIN, with a view to its introduction as a wholesome, popular beverage. Within the brief space of six months our anticipations were realized, and our original CORDIAL GIN received the commendations and cordial approbation of the most distinguished physicians and chemists of the Eastern and Middle States, where it had been accepted as the sole reliable medicinal beverage. Naturally our prosperity generated a host of vile pretenders, who descended to every fraudulent means to impose their noxious trash upon the public, but chiefly by the introduction of worthless imitations of LONDON CORDIAL GIN, which they assume to be of their own importation. These frauds were soon exposed by the liberal and independent press of the Atlantic cities, who, jealous of the repute of our metropolis, whose mercantile rectitude is a component in its credit boldly and emphatically annihilated the nest of vermin with as little compunction as they would destroy a den of open thieves or robbers.

A more recent attempt to take advantage of our justly earned reputation, as well as to impose upon the public, has reached our notice. To this one we now particularly allude. Some party, probably stimulated by the worser element of Jewish avarice, has endeavored to substitute a wretched alcoholic composition into the market as our London Cordial Gin, by representing it as consigned to this country by Booth & Sedgwick, of London. The audacity of this assertion is fairly exposed by the simple fact that this firm never shipped a solitary gallon to this port, and Simpson Brothers the self-styled "importers of London Gin," never imported into this country a single drop, good, bad or indifferent. And it will be credited, that despite a reference to government statistics, Simpson Brothers and De Venoge & Charles persevere in reiterating their false and brazen assertions to dispose of their paltry and spurious imitations of our well-established and purely medicinal beverage, claiming, for their truly deleterious compounds, similar qualities, which the most eminent physicians have accorded to our Cordial Gin and our Cordial Gin only.

These repeated imitations of our genuine and imported beverage are truly annoying to us, and we have had therefore recourse to the public press to check the evil, which assails the public health more seriously than our business prospects. We would find no fault with honest, fair, and proper competition; on the contrary, we confide in the superior merits of our LONDON CORDIAL GIN, and have submitted it voluntarily to the tests of chemists and medical men, and rejoice in their favorable verdict. Still, to be the unconscious agents in vending a most pernicious mixture, and thus indirectly jeopardizing our own credit as well as the public health, is somewhat too trying for the patience of merchants, who have labored, toiled, and expended money to earn an honest reputation by securing to every household a welcome and valuable medical beverage.

These counterfeits of our beverage are necessarily injurious to the public health, and those dealers who for an extra profit are willing to vend them, will ere long find that the genuine article, at a fair price, will pay far better than the imitation at a cheaper rate. At least if they do not, the fault will rest with an over-indulgent public.

Messenger's London Cordial Gin is distilled only for us, at the oldest established and wealthiest distillery in London, and sold in its purity expressly for medicinal purposes. Not a single editorial ever appeared in the American newspapers recommending a pure London Cordial Gin other than Messenger's. We feel a most commendable pride in the superiority of our genuine article, which is founded not upon our own unsupported assertion, but upon the calm, deliberate and unpurchased judgment of distinguished men, such as Dr. A. A. Hays, Assayer to the State of Massachusetts; Professor Beakly of the Philadelphia Medical College, and the world-renowned chemist, Dr. Chilton, of New York, who, with hundreds of other eminent men of science, have recommended our Cordial Gin as a valuable medicinal tincture. We could refer to thousands who have, unsolicited, borne testimony to a similar worth, while the inferior mixture, known as "Aromatic Schnapps," has been publicly repudiated by the Board of Ten Governors as unworthy to physic even the stomachs of the occupants of the New York almshouse.

Purchasers who may desire to avail themselves of the good qualities of Messenger's London Cordial Gin, would do well to remember the peculiar distinctions we have placed upon the genuine package, with a view of guarding against spurious imitations. In the first place, our name is blown into the glass of each bottle, which is enveloped in a white wrapper, bearing upon an engraved label the English national coat of arms. In the next place, our signature is written across the face of this label, as a further safeguard. By observing these peculiarities, and by purchasing from none but a reputable dealer of local standing and integrity, the public have it in their power to thwart the designs of knaves and impostors, as well as to escape from their nefarious concoctions.

Advices from Paris state that the negotiations between Ferouk Khan and Lord Cowley were not proceeding so satisfactorily as heretofore reported. After the reception of very warlike despatches from the Shah, the Persian Envoy was disposed to break off negotiations, and it was said he had determined not to visit London. On the other hand, our correspondent at Paris is of opinion that Ferouk Khan has come to an understanding with the British representative. A proclamation of the Shah, announcing the capture of Bushire, and stating his intention of taking the most energetic measures to repel the invasion of England, was published in the official paper of Teheran, and Ferouk Kahn was instructed to demand from Great Britain the sum of three hundred thousand pounds sterling in payment of an alleged old debt. At the same time we are told that a powerful revolutionary combination against the Shah himself was being perfected amongst the Persian nobles. From Khiva it is stated that the Russians had completed the construction of a new fort at the mouth of the Georgan, a river which flows into the Caspian Sea.

The Paris journals have scarcely a word of comment on the Emperor's speech. A good deal of surprise was caused by the fact that the speech closed with a quotation from M. Thiers, and conjectures were rife as to whether this honor was paid with the view of winning over the statesman to the imperial cause.

From Berlin we are told that no arrangement had been entered into for the settlement of the Neuchatel question. A Russian ukase contains the details of a concession granted by the Czar for the great network of railways to be constructed within ten years at an outlay of about £45,000,000. From Constantinople we learn that the Sultan and the Ministers subscribed to the Smyrna Railway, which has been completed. The English government, it was said, continued steadfast in its opposition to the union of the Danubian Principalities, and had forwarded to Paris a note in explanation of its views. There is nothing important from Spain.

Mr. D'Israeli, as leader of the opposition, made a violent assault on the financial affairs of the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the British Parliament on the 20th ult. His chief aim was to obtain a total repeal of the income tax at the expiration of three years from this date.

THE NEW BRITISH MINISTER.—Lord Napier arrived at New York on Friday last, accompanied by his family and a large suite of servants. The Liverpool merchants having entertained our Minister, Mr. Dallas, in a very handsome manner, it has been determined by the New York Chamber of Commerce to reciprocate the friendly spirit of Liverpool by tendering a public reception or testimonial to Lord Napier. At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce a committee of merchants, consisting of twelve persons, was formed to take measures for paying some mark of respect to the new Minister.

CONCERT BY OLE BULL IN NEW YORK.—The distinguished Norwegian Violinist gave a concert in New York on Friday evening of last week, which was largely attended. The Times says:

Apart from considerations of anti-fiscal and local interest in the material prosperity of Mr. Ole Bull. With the love of Invention towards the world, he has been fully sustained by it. As a violinist he stands almost alone—the representative of the ultra romantic or supernatural school which every one attempts but few can master. His playing last night was unequal, but at times superb, and when so singularly good and peculiar as to merit the wonder and admiration of the audience. ... [illegible]

PROFESSOR GRAY'S BOTANIES.

111 LAKE ST., CHICAGO,
ARE HAPPY TO ANNOUNCE TO Teachers, Naturalists and Students of Botany, that arrangements have been made for the publication of the new and admirable Series of TEXT BOOKS ON BOTANY,
By Prof. ASA GRAY, M.D., Fisher Professor of Natural History in Harvard University.

Prof. Gray stands confessedly at the head of this department of science in this country, and these volumes, the careful and oft-corrected work of many years, embody the ripest results of his scholarship. For comprehensiveness of scope, exactness and clearness of description, accurate scientific analysis of plants and beauty of illustrations, they have no equal. The series consists of—

I. LESSONS IN BOTANY AND VEGETABLE PHYSIOLOGY.—A new and very engaging treatise on the science of Botany, for Schools and Beginners, illustrated by nearly 360 beautiful drawings from nature, by Sprague. 1 vol. 12mo. Price $1.

II. MANUAL OF BOTANY; a Complete Flora of the Northern States, distinguished for the clearness of its arrangement and excellence of its analytical descriptions. Illustrated with steel engravings. 1 vol. 8vo. $1.50.

III. BOTANICAL TEXT BOOK; an elaborate exposition of the science for advanced students and amateurs. Illustrated by 1200 drawings from nature.

These works have the unqualified endorsement as the best works extant, of the most eminent Botanists and Naturalists in this country.

Professor Silliman, of Yale College, in noticing the Manual in Silliman's Journal, says:—

"The cultivators of the 'amiable science,' in the Northern, Middle, and Eastern States of our great confederacy, are deeply indebted to Professor Gray, for the new and more comprehensive edition of his excellent work. ... [illegible]"

Prof. Wm. Darlington, the eminent botanist, of Pennsylvania, writes:—

"I am very glad to learn that Prof. Gray's elementary 'Lessons in Botany,' are soon to be published. ... [illegible]"

Prof. Hollen, of Middlebury College, writes:—

"Prof. Gray's 'Lessons in Botany' is the completion of a series ... [illegible]"

Prof. Pearson, of Union College, writes:—

"I have examined the works of Professor Gray with great satisfaction. ... [illegible]"

Professor Chadbourne, of Williams College, writes:—

"I have examined Professor Gray's 'Manual of Botany,' with great pleasure. ... [illegible]"

John Jay Smith, Esq., Editor of the Horticulturist, and author of the North American Sylva, writes:—

"I have no hesitation in saying that Dr. Gray's textbooks on Botany ... [illegible]"

Prof. O. R. Willis, of the Freehold Institute, N. J., writes:—

"I have used Dr. Gray's 'Manual' constantly, since it was first published, ... [illegible]"

The N. Y. Evening Post says:—

"There are few eminent botanists now living, who have brought the study of the science within so well endowed ... [illegible]"

These works will be ready in about 30 days, and will be sent postage paid, on receipt of retail price.

Fire and Water-proof Cement ROOFING.
W. E. CHILDS & CO.'S PATENT.
WE ARE NOW PREPARED TO PLACE W. E. CHILDS & CO.'S
Patent Fire and Water-proof Elastic Cement
ROOFING,
Upon buildings of all descriptions in this City and County, and solicit orders from builders and others.
This is the only roofing material yet discovered which will successfully resist the action of the weather in all climates. It is perfectly fire and water proof; and, in point of durability, superior to any other material now in use—except slate, and these are by far too costly for ordinary buildings. ... [illegible]
